

Marcolin reveals new travel retail exclusive Guess sunglasses

The new Guess sunglasses are exclusive to travel retail

World-leading eyewear specialist Marcolin has added new sunglasses to the Guess Eyewear 2024 Travel Retail collection.

The sunglasses, with a butterfly silhouette and trendy shape, feature a metal front with a semi-enameled black trim and slim rose gold rims. The frame has transparent injected temples in the same color, embellished with a glitter surface and decorated with the Guess logo. Gradient lenses fade from purple to peach.

The new style is exclusive to travel retail and presented in a special pouch that can also be used as a clutch bag.
