

Duty Free Dynamics celebrates the global launch of Oris x Momotaro

Oris x Momotaro

Duty Free Dynamics announces the launch of Oris x Momotaro, a Divers Sixty-Five special edition watch that Oris made in collaboration with independent Japanese company Momotaro Jeans, a Japanese company known for high quality jeans.

The new watch is a steel and bronze version of the iconic Oris Divers Sixty-Five and comes on an indigo Momotaro denim strap with two white 'battle stripes', the denim manufacturer's famous signature.

Named after a Japanese folklore hero, Momotaro was launched in 2006 by Mr. Hisao Manabe. Its roots lie in his textile company, which he established in 1992 with just three employees in the small coastal town of Kojima in Okayama.

The independent Swiss watch company combines precision manufacturing with traditional hand-craftsmanship to make beautiful, high-quality watches, making it a natural partnership with Momotaro.

For more information about Oris x Momotaro, please visit Duty Free Dynamics website

<https://www.dutyfreedynamics.com> or contact Oris Business Developer/ Brand Manager, Maria Villarreal: maria.villarreal@dutyfreedynamics.com