

Drunk Elephant releases travel-perfect A-Shaba Complex Eye Serum

Suitable for all skin types, the A-Shaba Complex Eye Serum is formulated at a pH of 5.5 and is 100% free of essential oils, silicones and fragrance

Drunk Elephant biocompatible skincare has just released a new eye serum in travel retail.

Formulated with 0.1% vegan retinol, 3% antioxidant-rich caffeine and copper peptides, Drunk Elephant A-Shaba Complex™ Eye Serum targets fine lines and wrinkles and reduces puffiness for a rested, more youthful appearance.

The vegan and cruelty-free smoothing, moisturizing eye serum promotes healthy collagen production to improve skin elasticity and defends against UV-generated and environmental free radical damage.

The 15-ml eye serum is just the thing to combat the puffiness that can accompany air travel, and conveniently packaged to easily slip into a carry-on bag.

Drunk Elephant A-Shaba Complex Eye Serum (15-ml) is now available in Travel Retail Asia Pacific and Travel Retail Americas, and will be available in Travel Retail Europe and Middle East from September.
