Spa Ceylon's new De-Stress Collection is infused with calming and revitalizing frankincense to help ease stress

Luxury Ayurveda brand Spa Ceylon has launched its new De-Stress Collection of health and wellbeing products designed to help ease stress and promote natural harmony and chakra balance.

"This high-performance range of powerful Ayurveda formulae will be the most premium of our brand offering thus far," said Shiwantha Dias, Co-Founder and Director, Spa Ceylon.

He added that the range was a result of years of R&D to create the perfect mix of sensory and functional benefits.

The preparations are infused with frankincense, soothing sandalwood, refreshing tangerine and kaffir lime to promote clarity, and fresh organic aloe vera to cool and soothe the body.

The range is enriched with powerful Ayurveda herbs and also features the traditional Dashamula formula enriched with potent extracts of 10 medicinal products.

The leading ingredient in the new range is frankincense, which is proven to be calming, pacifying and revitalizing. It has been prescribed in Ayurveda for centuries as a calming tonic.

The De-Stress Relaxing Body Cleanser is a mild cleansing formula enriched with aloe vera and virgin coconut oil, while the De-Stress Harmonizing Essence Mist works efficiently to withdraw work stress.

De-Stress Harmonizing Roll-on Balm helps to clarify and refresh the senses, Grapefruit & Bergamot help uplift and revive, and the De-Stress Calming Body Elixir helps to relax and soothe body and mind.
