

SKROSS bets on new power banks

The new SKROSS power banks can charge a mobile phone up to six times

SKROSS has introduced new power banks for travelers who want to charge their phone on the go.

Described as compact, sleek and stylish, the SKROSS Power Banks are available in a handy travel size yet with a large capacity.

With three different models in various sizes and different capacities, the power banks can charge a mobile phone up to six times, offering reliable power.

In addition, with two powerful USB ports, they can charge up to 2 USB devices simultaneously.

The products will be available in Spring 2019.
