

Changi Airport rings in holiday with Avatar and marine-theme festivities

Installations inspired by "Avatar: The Way of Water" at Changi Airport

Changi Festive Village returns to Changi Airport and Jewel Changi Airport this holiday season from November 11 to January 2, 2023. Activities include installations inspired by "Avatar: The Way of Water" which will be released in theaters on December 15.

Installations inspired by "Avatar: The Way of Water" are on show at Changi Airport's T3 Departure Hall, with a large replica of the home of the Na'vi, the characters from the movie. Visitors can explore their home, see replicas of the residents, and see light and sound shows. In the basement there are more than 30 carnival game booths and rides at the T3 Underground Carnival, including go-kart racing.

At Jewel, the 16-meter-tall Prudential Singapore Jewel Christmas tree returns, surrounded by snowfall at the Shiseido Forest Valley. Visitors can watch an Avatar-themed light and sound show at the HSBC Rain Vortex, see marine life on digital screens at Canopy Park, and enjoy family camps at the Changi Experience Studio.

The Changi exclusive "Avatar: The Way of Water" merchandise is available at Changi and Jewel at S$9.90 (US$7.14).

Jayson Goh, Managing Director of Airport Operations Management at Changi Airport Group, said, "With the return of air travel and the re-opening of terminals, 2022 has been an exciting and eventful year for Changi Airport. To continue on a high, the beloved Changi Festive Village is making a comeback for the third year running. This year, we have a myriad of exciting activities that will delight even the youngest of visitors, including a time-travelling carnival, the breathtaking Avatar: The Way of Water-inspired centrepiece, relaxing glamps, sustainability-themed camps, workshops, and more. We hope that many will join us at Changi Airport for the year-end festivities, to soak in the holiday mood and create fond memories."

James Fong, Chief Executive Officer, Jewel Changi Airport, said, "With the year-end festivities and holiday cheer drawing near, Jewel is excited to welcome back crowd favourite activities like the snowfall and Christmas Light & Sound shows. We are thrilled to reimagine and transform Canopy Park into a whimsical underwater world and showcase the specially composed Avatar: The Way of Water-inspired Light & Sound show. The uniquely designed Prudential Singapore Jewel Christmas Tree experience with the ocean tunnel reminds us all to take a breather and look after our mental well-being amid the festive rush. With our many curated activities, we look forward to welcoming you and your family to have a splashing and sparkling time at Jewel."
