

Kuwait's Jazeera Airways launches inflight shop with Trolley

Jazeera Airways' new inflight shop offers personal and children's care, food, beverages, games, skincare, and electronics

Low-cost carrier Jazeera Airways has announced a partnership with Kuwait-based convenience chain Trolley to provide an onboard retail experience for passengers.

With over 100 items, the onboard convenience store will include personal and children's care, food and beverage, games, skincare, and electronics.

Jazeera Airways CEO Rohit Ramachandran said: "We continue at Jazeera Airways to bring convenience to our customers, making their travel experience more enjoyable. We have the pleasure today to be partnering with Trolley which has become a leading service provider in Kuwait, to introduce their wide range of travel-related retail products onboard all our flights."

The onboard convenience store will be available for Business and Economy Class passengers, in addition to the onboard duty free shop.

Trolley co-founder and CEO Mohammed Boodai added: "We are glad to be the first in the Middle East to introduce a unique concept of convenience store in the sky. Trolley will be serving its versatile range onboard Jazeera Airways to enable passengers to buy what they need while traveling."

Trolley is a chain of convenience stores trading in locations such as universities, gas stations and malls.
