

Over 300 firms to showcase brands at TFWA Asia Pacific fair

This year's FWA Asia Pacific exhibition floor space has been expanded to over 11,000 square meters to accommodate the larger number of brands and visitors attending

More than 313 exhibitors have registered for the TFWA Asia Pacific Exhibition, which will take place at Marina Bay Sands from May 12 to 16.

For the first time, the exhibition floor space has been expanded to over 11,000 square meters to accommodate the larger number of brands and visitors attending this year.

A total of 60 brands will be making their first appearance at the event or returning after a short period. These include Kering Travel Retail, Begg & Co, and Suzhou Waytone Co in fashion, accessories and luggage; Rémy Cointreau and Stoli Group in wines and spirits; Nuxe and Mavala Switzerland in fragrances and cosmetics; Chow Tai Fook Jewellery in jewellery and watches; Eu Yan Sang and Patchi in confectionery and fine food; Lamy in gifts and toys; and QuietOn Sleep in electronics.

TFWA's ONE2ONE meeting service will aim to help companies organize meetings with senior executives from Asia Pacific airports and airlines, as well as cruise and ferry companies.

TFWA President Alain Maingreud said: "The wealth of interest we have received from duty free and travel retail brands looking to exhibit at the TFWA Asia Pacific Exhibition & Conference has been overwhelming, and further highlights the strength of trade in the Asia Pacific region. With so many exciting brands under one roof, this will be the perfect opportunity for delegates to find out about the latest trends in the region, make new contacts and discuss important business issues."

To register, visit www.tfwa.com.