

TFWA reveals 2023 live and online program

TFWA is preparing a full program for 2023

Building on the success of its events in 2022, TFWA is preparing a full program of live and online events in 2023. The first live event of the year will be TFWA Asia Pacific Exhibition & Conference, which will make its return to Marina Bay Sands Expo and Convention Centre in Singapore from May 7 to May 11.

The ASUTIL Conference, managed by TFWA on behalf of ASUTIL, will be returning to South America for the first time in five years. The in-person event will take place on June 7 and 8 at the Hotel Hilton in Puerto Madero, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Toward the end of the year will be TFWA World Exhibition & Conference in Cannes, duty free and travel retail's global summit, which drew more than 6,000 delegates last year.

These events will provide a platform for industry leaders to share insights on the market and will bring together the duty free and travel retail industry for an opportunity to learn, network and develop partnerships.

In addition to these trade shows, a full program of webinars will be hosted on TFWA 365 throughout the year. The first for the year will take place on February 9 and will focus on the outlook for travel over the first half of 2023.

More details on these events will be announced soon.

"The industry's response to our events last year was incredibly positive, and the enthusiasm to conduct business face-to-face and meet with friends and industry colleagues was very evident. We are confident the range of events scheduled for 2023, both in-person and online, will provide a useful springboard for our members and business partners as they prepare for what promises to be a year of considerable opportunity for our industry," says Erik Juul-Mortensen, TFWA President.
