

FOREO's FAQ professional-level anti-aging tool launches

FOREO is launching its new FAQ™, a cutting-edge hybrid beauty device designed to be used at home. These hand-held devices, used with an app to “transform into professional clinical machines,” feature a wide range of cutting-edge solutions for all skin types and beauty needs.

FOREO's FAQ™ 100 series brings professional clinical skin care to the user at home

According to FOREO, FAQ has “made it their mission to professionally train all of their users on how to safely and effectively perform non-invasive clinical rejuvenation treatments on themselves, by themselves - because the brand believes that although aging is an inevitability, everyone holds the power to control how they age.”

Because these technologies can be dangerous if used incorrectly, the company will lock the higher-intensity technologies until users have gone through a full training program using the app. Once the user has completed the training, the device's full intensities are unlocked.

Users can unleash the full clinical technology once they have completed their training

The FAQ 100 Range features:

- Power-RF (powerful heated radiofrequency waves that boost the production of collagen)
- EMS-Pro (professionally toning EMS that firms and trains facial muscles)
- LED-Pulse (eight colors of deep-penetrating LED light that visibly rejuvenate skin for a refined look)
- FAQ's patented T-Sonic™ pulsations (gently massaging pulsations that naturally boost skin's radiance and enhance product absorption)

New technology brings clinical strength to the user's home

FAQ 100 Range devices allow users to personalize their routines. Once the user has chosen the preferred treatment routine, the device will follow this routine.

The FAQ™ brand is founded by FOREO and utilizes the same level of quality assurance, customer service, distribution, and retail support that has been enjoyed by FOREO customers.
