

Lagardère Travel Retail's Eudes Fabre leaves company to pursue new opportunities

After more than 15 years at Lagardère Travel Retail, Eudes Fabre has left the company to pursue new career opportunities

Lagardère Travel Retail confirms to Global Travel Retail Magazine today that after more than 15 years and a long list of achievements, Eudes Fabre, CEO North Asia, has left the company to pursue new career opportunities.

With the guidance of Fabre, Lagardère Travel Retail started its business in China in 2007 and has since established the company as the leading international travel retailer in the country.

Séverine Lanthier, Group Chief Strategy and Development Officer and Asia Chief Operating Officer, will take on the role as CEO ad interim until a new CEO is appointed for North Asia. She will be supported by Ann Pang, Lagardère Travel Retail's CEO Singapore & Malaysia, who will oversee its operations locally.

"Ann has been working in the North Asia team since September last year and has both the market understanding and leadership to continue to serve the needs of its partners during this transition," comments Lanthier.

She also thanks Eudes and wishes him the best of luck in his future ventures.

"I very much look forward to an even stronger collaboration in the future. Rest assured that Ann, our team and myself are fully committed to delivering the highest standards of partnership you rightly expect from us," adds Lanthier.
