

Le Clos unveils exclusive 50-year-old blended Celebration Edition whisky

Le Clos will continue to expand its portfolio of rare, exclusive and luxury fine wines and spirits and throughout 2022, including the unveiling of a series of new and exciting partnerships and bottlings, underscoring the brand's commitment to bringing customers some of the rarest and most sought after products through to everyday luxuries

Award-winning fine wine and luxury spirits retailer Le Clos has launched a world exclusive, limited edition 50-year-old Celebration Edition, a rare handcrafted blend drawn from some of Scotland's most iconic distilleries.

Available only at Le Clos outlets at Dubai International airport (DXB) and online at leclos.net, the collection is limited to 120 bottles.

Retailing at US$500 (AED 1,800) this edition is the first in a series of exclusive bottlings that Le Clos plans to release over the next 12 months as part of the Le Clos Limited Edition Collection.

Each bottle is individually numbered, and customers will also be able to personalize their Celebration Edition Whisky through Le Clos' complimentary engraving service.

The Celebration Edition features lavish notes of figs, cinnamon and rich honey and, according to Le Clos information, will be one of the best value 50-year-old blended malts available globally.

Ben Odgers, General Manager of Le Clos, said, "The Celebration Edition 50 Year Old is the culmination of a year-long search to find a truly unique expression for our customers. Our team prides itself on being able to deliver world-class and exceptional products and this bottling is another example of that commitment. This whisky will appeal to both enthusiasts and collectors providing an opportunity to secure a time capsule of history."
