

Narita Airport set to expand T2 retail and dining selection

Two stores will open this month on the third floor of the After Passport Control area in Terminal 2

Coming up, the expansion of the retail and dining selection at Narita International Airport.

Two stores will open this month on the third floor of the After Passport Control area in Terminal 2; both will be located in the duty free mall, Narita 5th Avenue.

Health food store Matsumotokiyoshi will open on August 26 and sell a range of items including food, pharmaceuticals, beauty and cosmetics. Described as a destination store, Fa-So-La Akihabara “already full of entertainment value”, will also open on August 30.

Plus, a ten-restaurant Japan Food Hall is scheduled to open on September 1 in T2 airside.

Travelers are encouraged to stop by pre-departure to check out the new offering and pick up some goods.